All victims of the fatal Learjet 60 crash have been identified by family.

Austin tech entrepreneur Adam Robinson 44 years old, his wife Helen Sharp, and their two young children Emma 4 years old and Charlie Robinson 2 years old.

The family was traveling from Austin to the Bahamas alongside their beloved nanny Anita Maria Apellido Cetina and two close family friends Rachael Reed & Charmi Fehr, all of whom, along with the aircraft's two pilots Captain Jeff Gregory 55 years old and Copilot Nathalia Gadelha Filgueiras 20 years old, tragically lost their lives in the accident.

Adam Robinson was a respected figure, known for his entrepreneurial spirit, leadership, and vision. But above all, he and Helen were dedicated parents, loyal friends, and cherished members of their local community.

This unimaginable tragedy has left an overwhelming hole in the hearts of their family, friends, colleagues, and all who had the privilege of knowing them.

A friend close to the family had this to say, "Our deepest thoughts, prayers, and heartfelt condolences go out to the extended Robinson family, the loved ones of all nine individuals on board, and everyone impacted by this profound loss.

Early reviews of flight data and radar suggest the Learjet may have encountered a rapidly developing thunderstorm. Meteorologist Matthew Cappucci said the storm’s clouds climbed approximately 15,000 feet in just 20 minutes, eventually reaching 48,300 feet.

Moments before the crash, the aircraft’s crew requested permission to climb to 37,000 feet because of heavy rain.
